- Robert Tew

Welcome

We are so excited! We have missed everyone so much! Our staff have been busy preparing school so that it is safe, colorful and welcoming for you.

We are extremely proud of how resilient and positive our children have been throughout the unprecedented period of lockdown. From coping with school closure and the absence of dear friends to migrating into the world of online school, the children have, without exception, embraced every stage with an impressive attitude.

It is wonderful to start welcoming children back to school. Everyone is excited to be back, including the teachers. The playground is once again alive with the sounds of children laughing and chattering.

We take this opportunity to thank the parents for their tremendous support and understanding during this time. We promise an academic environment that is conducive to learning and achievement for our students as an all-rounded personality as we venture forward to reinvent our learning for our students and extend support to our teachers and staff.

NATIONAL PET DAY

National Pet Day is April 11, although if you're a pet owner, you know there's not a day that goes by that you don't celebrate your animal companion! So hug your hedgehog, bond with your bunny, and cut your kitty some catnip! That critter makes you happy — and that's not all. Over the past 10 years, the National Institutes of Health (NIH) has been a partner in research to determine the physical and mental benefits of having a pet. Children of Class 1 shared their thought and ideas how to take care of their pet and also it was an eye opener assembly for their friends that how an animal should be treated and love them with loads of care which was an outstanding performance by our little kiddos.

There are so many unborn children that could be saved by providing safe motherhood to the would-be moms. Warm wishes on National Safe Motherhood Day to you.

National Safe Motherhood Day 2022: Safe Motherhood guarantees that all mothers receive the care they need to be safe and healthy throughout pregnancy and childbirth. So, each year, we celebrate National Safe Motherhood Day, an initiative of the White Ribbon Alliance India (WRAI) to ensure that pregnant women, new mothers and their families have access to proper prenatal and postnatal care. In 2003, the Indian government designated the day of Kasturba Gandhi's birthday, April 11, as National Safe Motherhood Day in response to the proposal of WRAI.

San Academy Kamakoti Nagar observed this day as an awareness day youngsters and new mother in order to reduce mortality and morbidity related to pregnancy and childbirth. Students of Class 9-12 for that reason, talked about woman's diet during pregnancy, things the mother need to do for the healthy growth of the foetus, how to maintain mother's health, physical and mental strength. They made a diet chart and explained the six basic nutrients: proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, minerals (mainly calcium and iron), and water. Hence, to assure the safety and health of all women during pregnancy and delivery, it is mandatory to empower "safe motherhood".
