PUPPETRY DAY

25.8.2022

Puppets have always fascinated children.

The benefits of puppet play include helping children learn various academic and social skills. Various studies have proved that puppets are very effective aids for fostering cooperation, enhancing creativity, and improving communication in pre-schoolers. Puppet shows for kids have been used in classrooms, homes, hospitals and care centres for fun and learning. They have been used as an educational resource for decades.

The simplest way to get your little pre-schooler to open up and talk is through puppets. The puppet can also become 'the friend' that child can talk to about anything! We will be surprised to learn how much more our child engages and communicates with the puppets than with others.

San Academy nursery kids celebrated puppetry day during the session , they came dressed in fairy tale characters. They enjoyed the story "The Jumbo the elephant" with stick puppets made out of sock puppets by drawing a pair of eyes, ears and a cheerful mouth on a pair of socks. Also made stick puppets by pasting animal faces on ice cream sticks. This interesting method to taught values and morals to child from a very young age, which likely remember for a lifetime. Teachers came up with different voices for each character of the story.

, "Any puppet can encourage the quietest of children to start talking. Puppets can break down barriers and provide an effective means to initiate communication." It was proved during the session as all kids interacted enthusiastically the story .
